

EDUCATION

Smith College 2022–26 – Northampton, MA
B.A. in English Language & Literature, Government minor; graduated Cum Laude with High Honors (3.9 GPA)

The University of Edinburgh 2024–25 – Edinburgh, UK
Visiting student for the year in Literature and Politics.

Relevant coursework: Public Opinion and Mass Media in the U.S.; Process, Prose and Pedagogy; Writers on Writing: An Introduction to the Craft and Business of Writing

LANGUAGES

English — Native
Spanish — Professional working proficiency

AWARDS & PUBLICATIONS

“The Consumer, Consumed: Reading Representations of Feminized Consumption in ‘Hot Girl’ Literature”
Departmental Honors Thesis, defended, awarded high honors, and published in Smith College Scholarworks, May 2026.

Collection of personal essays on travel and the UK food cooperative movement
Published on Substack, 2024–2025.

“‘Life in Plastic, It’s Fantastic’: Commodity Feminism and the Illusion of Activism in Barbie”
Published in Critical Theory & Social Justice Journal of Undergraduate Research, Occidental College, Vol. 13. May 2025.

“Girls Just Wanna Have Fun! Redefining Feminine Desire and Consumption in Mrs. Dalloway”
Published in Vol. 1 Iss. 4, Smith Writes, September 2023.

Elizabeth Drew Memorial Prize
Awarded for “Girls Just Wanna Have Fun! Redefining Feminine Desire and Consumption in Mrs. Dalloway” as the best essay on a literary subject, May 2023.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Teaching Assistant, The School of The New York Times
June–August 2026 – New York, NY
Taught the ‘How to be an Editor’ course alongside NYT editors. Assisted in developing curriculum, leading discussions, and managing the classroom.

Features Editor, The Sophian, Smith’s Student Newspaper
2023–24 and 2025–26 academic years – Northampton, MA
Led a team of writers through every stage of the journalistic writing process. Conducted research, assigned articles, and edited drafts to meet The Sophian and AP standards on form and frequent deadlines. Edited upwards of 50 articles over two years. Contributed as a writer, copyeditor, and layout editor as needed.

Pedagogical Partner, Smith College English Department
January–May 2026 – Northampton, MA
Selected as a teaching assistant for ‘Multi-Ethnic American Literature: Borders and Border Crossings’ through an inquiry-based collaborative leadership program focused on the intersection of pedagogy and AI. Supported student writing projects, class discussions, and an archival acquisition project.

Tutor, Jacobson Center for Writing, Teaching & Learning
September 2025–May 2026 – Northampton, MA
Supported students with writing across all disciplines with the aim of strengthening rhetorical and technical skills. Specialized in political science, journalism, and literary analysis. Awarded the College Reading and Language Association L1 Certification.

Editorial Intern, Restless Books
June–July 2024 & January 2026 – Amherst, MA
Copyedited manuscripts, reviewed submissions, and completed production and publicity tasks as needed at an independent, non-profit publisher specializing in literature in translation. Developed proficiency in interpreting and organizing data using Excel and gained familiarity with administrative tools, including Airtable and Google Workspace.

Administrative Assistant, Smith College Art Department
September 2022–May 2024 – Northampton, MA
Managed social media accounts and digital communications, designed promotional material using Adobe Indesign, and supported lectures, exhibitions, and other events. Maintained file organization and kept flexible working hours to best manage a heavy administrative workload.

Editor, Emulate Arts & Literary Magazine
September 2023 - May 2024 – Northampton, Massachusetts
Read and presented on submissions in poetry and prose, worked in design and layout, and organized magazine events.